

Hello!

My name is Alina Zubova, I have extensive experience related to audit, analysis of documentation, internal control of processes in the field not related to IT, but already on 12.11.2021 I am finishing courses on the basics of testing in software-testing. During the time spent on the courses, I received theoretical knowledge in this area and applied it in practice while working on the course project.

In my free time I do crowd testing services. Studying testing tools. The basics of working with web services and mobile applications.

Although I have little testing experience, I am passionate about this area and can quickly delve into an unfamiliar area. In addition, due to the specifics of previous job responsibilities and relevant experience: audit and quality control are not new to me.

From my new job I look forward to interesting tasks and communication with experienced software developers who love their work.

I would be grateful if you take the time to study my resume and, if you are interested, contact me.

Sincerely,

Zubova Alina
